Qur'an 21 blessed offspring must prostrate. Anas related that the Prophet (peace_ be upon him) came out from his room after offering the morning prayer and saw some of the Companions in the courtyard. When he asked them about this, they said, "We. 22 offered the morning prayer with the Prophet (peace_ be upon him) in his room." He came to them and asked, "Why did you not prostrate when you offered the morning prayer in my room?" They said, "We did not know that you were offering the morning prayer in your room." He said, "This is a legitimate excuse. If you give me a plausible excuse, I shall forgive you and shall continue to forgive you." A man came and said, "We saw our sheep were stolen by a wolf. We found our sheep again with the wolf." The Prophet said, "God will forgive you because you said what is true, but I will not forgive you because you did not say what is false." A woman came and said, "I have three stones with which I have stabbed a mule and killed it. It died of its wounds." The Prophet (peace_ be upon him) asked, "Did you know that I offer the morning prayer in my room?" She said, "Yes." He said, "Then prostrate. You said what was true and God will forgive you." A man came and said, "I have bought this house for one thousand camels. The owner took a ten dinar note and told me to take it. I took it and then passed the time and found it very boring. It was of no use to me. I sold it to you for one hundred dinars." The Prophet (peace_ be upon him) asked, "Have you any objection to selling it for a hundred dinars?" "Yes." He (peace_ be upon him) said, "I forgive you because you said what is true." A man came and said, "My household god passed away and I found another one in its place. I bought it for one hundred dirhams. I took it and then passed the time and found it very boring. It was of no use to me. I sold it to you for one hundred dirhams." He (peace_ be upon him) asked, "Do you have any objection to selling it for a hundred dirhams?" "Yes." He (peace_ be
