Category:HVACThe Mariners have acquired second baseman Logan Forsythe from the Cubs and are likely to keep him in the majors through most of 2019, Ken Rosenthal of The Athletic reports. The Mariners will attempt to complete the deal by sending pitcher Brailyn Marquez to the Cubs, a source told Rosenthal. Despite the fact that it's a minor-league deal, this is significant news for the Mariners, who have looked to contend for a playoff spot in the AL West for the first time since 2001. The 26-year-old Forsythe, who will become a free agent after the season, is expected to platoon at second base with the recently acquired Mike Freeman. Forsythe is a career.255/.306/.420 hitter in 1,397 plate appearances in the majors, and his lack of power shouldn't be a surprise given that he plays in a power-deficient environment in the NL. Nevertheless, the former Blue Jay can play second base, third base, and left field, and his glove work has been excellent in the minors. Forsythe won't cost much more than 2d92ce491b
