Dear ALL, After spending a lot of time using WINMX - Screen Capture and TheAppMakr I would like to know if anyone is using: WINMX - Screen Capture and TheAppMakr with results better than me My setup is Windows XP Pro, SP2. Since I have used the programs, I have been using: WINMX - Screen Capture and TheAppMakr and I have been really impressed with WINMX - Screen Capture the results, screen capture timings, resolution, etc. The AppMakr performance, once it has finished recording, it writes the capture to a.fmp file. I have been looking at the other sites for screen recorders and have seen nothing that I like. I like the way the AppMakr timings and that it writes the capture file to a.fmp file. I have used: TheAppMakr many times for video conversion. I have found that when using the AppMakr for 1d6a3396d6
