Photoshop is my go-to program for image editing, and it is my absolute favorite image manipulation program. I use Photoshop for all my image editing and retouching. I love how it empowers me to really have a say in the final image. I love the fact that I can do what I want and not have to ask other people's permission to do it. I love that I can just take a picture and make it look like something it's not. I love the fact that it's not just raster image manipulating software. The layers are a powerful tool that makes it so that I can access multiple edits, just like in traditional painting and other types of art. Photoshop is the industry standard image manipulation program. Its name has become a verb. It is common parlance to say that an image has been "photoshopped," or even just "shopped," meaning that it's been edited or manipulated. History Photoshop traces its beginnings back to 1987, when working at Charles University in Prague in the Czech Republic, Nikita Kemenov was asked to make an app to use in his Chemistry classes. Kemenov decided that a traditional drawing program would not serve his needs, so he programmed a simple drawing app using Apple's MacPaint. Within a year, Kemenov had created the first version of Photoshop. In 1990, Steve Jobs saw that this program could be a true industry standard, and he introduced Photoshop to Apple's Macintosh users. In order to pay for the program, Adobe offered it to Mac users for free. Without Jobs' vision, the program would have never reached the success that it has, and we might not have Photoshop. In 1991, the first version of Photoshop was not available to the public. In 1992, the first version of Photoshop was released to the public, and it

No wonder the night elves at Blizzard wrote all of that in red, declaring that the entire Elven race has declared war against the Horde. It's not like these night elves ever played World of Warcraft, because Blizzard has never let you play with them. In fact, Blizzard has never even allowed anybody to play with the night elves in WoW. And when Blizzard finally does something about it, it's going to be so awesome! Not just because of the story, but because I bet there are going to be Night Elf units in World of Warcraft. I've also heard that Blizzard is thinking about giving Night Elf units a racial mount, but I guess that's just a rumor, so I'll just have to wait and see. Day 8 : I hate night elf so much, I can't even bear to look at them. I have good reason to hate them, though. They were always bad at everything they ever did. They had quite a few awesome traits, until one day in the Warcraft III beta they decided that they couldn't be good at anything, not even at being bad. They were the most depressed race in the entire Warcraft universe. All day long they'd lie around, staring at each other with their sad, sad faces. And when they'd lie down to take a nap, all their problems would disappear. That's why I call them "dead people's zombies." I wish I could still play WoW, but I've heard that one of the new patches has made World of Warcraft so buggy that I can't even log into the game. I bet it's because of the night elves.1. Field of the Invention The present invention is related to a tissue aspirator. 2. Description of the Prior Art A typical tissue aspirator includes a suction tube whose distal end is connected to a suction pump and whose proximal end is opened so that a tissue to be sucked into the tube can be placed between the tube and the proximal end. The suction tube is connected to a suction mouthpiece via a suction hose which has a suction tube fitting at its distal end. The suction tube fitting is provided with an adapter to facilitate connection to the suction tube. Typically, the adapter is a thin-walled container that has a large opening with a filter element such as a folded filter membrane. The membrane is sealed in the opening so that it does not come into contact with the suction
